GENEVA SCHOOL OF DIPLOMACY & INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

The Geneva School of Diplomacy & International Relations (GSD) is a small, private university located in the heart of the most diplomatic neighborhood of the world, in Geneva, Switzerland. We offer academic degree programmes from Bachelor to Doctorate as well as tailored courses for professionals from the public, private, and non-profit sectors.

GSD offers students personal and exclusive interaction with highly distinguished faculty members in a stimulating and international environment. Studying at GSD means having direct access to internships and networking possibilities in Geneva.

We have a multicultural and multidisciplinary academic community which provides intellectual, cultural stimulation and a perfect environment for people who want to study abroad. Our purpose is to prepare future world leaders to advance peace and human rights in today's world.

Our high quality of education is presented by well-respected and renowned professors: political leaders, diplomats, and ambassadors. Their work is published in both classic and cutting edge areas of International Relations.

GSD focuses on preparing individuals to have a successful career in management-level positions. Whether students wish to work within the public or the private sectors, they will have gained essential diplomatic skills by following a theoretical and practical approach proposed during their tenure in the programme. They will have the competencies to assume the challenges of a job in today's competitive working environment.

"By understanding the world around us past, present, and future - we can influence the world in a more humane and productive direction. That is what the Geneva School of Diplomacy is all about."

INTERNSHIPS & NETWORK

With more than 190 international organizations, Geneva is the pre-eminent diplomatic crossroads of our time. We are located in the very heart of the diplomatic world and connected to the surrounding international organizations, United Nations offices, missions and non-governmental organizations.

Our small, interactive classes with highly distinguished faculty members offer many lectures hosted by high profile guest speakers. We give our students the ability to create a network that can be life-lasting and life-changing. Students of the Bachelor and Master level have to fulfill a mandatory internship as part of their curriculum.

GSD graduates are aimed to acquire academic, vocational and practical diplomatic skills needed to enter their professional field of preference.

INTAKE

We offer students two intakes per year; one in February and one in September. Doctorate level candidates can apply throughout the year.

My time at the Geneva School of Diplomacy and International Relations was a one-of-a-kind academic experience. Thanks to GSD's competent professors and its small-sized classes, every lecture was filled with accessible, well-structured information, and intensive discussions.

I was able to dive deeper into many challenging issues. As an Alumnus of GSD, I made my way to the United Nations University Office in New York, and I will do my best to contribute to its noble missions.
